FOREWORD

There are too many necessary omissions and there is too much of the personal element in its compilation for this book to be wholly a naturalistic representation of life at Rice. The impression is the thing. That this shorthand may serve to stimulate you to relive in imagination the predominant emotions and impressions of your life this year at school is the sincere desire of the editor.

To
CHANDLER

our friend and teacher, who is one of our school's foremost contributors to the advancement of science and who represents a spirit of hard work tempered by sportsmanship and a sense of humor, this volume is dedicated with every sentiment of regard.

• TO RICE NINETEEN THIRTY-THREE •

Among the remarkable works of man in architecture and engineering that the planet affords, few are quite so beautiful as certain aspects of the Rice campus familiar to all of us in their variety and recurrence. You have only to think of columns and cloisters and loggias, and the near-by towers, immediately to recall the unforgettable charm of them in morning mist, or noonday splendor, under western glow, or, best of all, when illumined only by the lamps in the courts. Yet that is a recovery, you will say, of no more than half the picture, for this altogether lovely material beauty of form and color without is matched by an equally kindly spiritual beauty of character and faith within, which we have seen manifest itself again and again in fair play and square dealing, courage and courtesy, worthy work and stout-hearted devotion to it.

That such influences of the place upon you, within and without, moral and material as well, have been growing instead of diminishing with the years, I have not the slightest doubt. For as you collect the experiences we have shared from 1929 to 1933, I think you will find, as I find, that both you who go out and we who remain behind do so with an enhanced sense of beauty, with greater respect for human character, with a saner sense of justice, with higher hope of enduring achievement, with a keener sense of humor, with harder resolution in the quest of truth, and with a consequent sense of progress, for the bringing of better things about. At any rate, when wishing you a sense of humor, a sense of justice, and a sense of beauty, for the labor and leisure of life, we are wishing you powers you already possess. May they continue to minister to you even as the guardian spirits of letters and science and art minister to your Alma Mater.

River Oaks Swimming Pool after the Senior American

COMMENCEMENT ACTIVITIES 1932

Senior American—The French doors of the River Oaks ballroom were thrown wide open to admit all the warm, flower-scented air of early summer for the Senior American on Saturday morning, June 4, from 9 until 12 o'clock. The snowy breakfast table on the long porch was filled by seemingly ravenous crowds at all times and prevented the ballroom from being overcrowded and overheated. Lee and his Owls did their best to provide music enticing enough to make everyone forget the heat. The broad green terrace and the cool sunlit waters of the swimming pool were the orchestra's keenest rivals; and after the dance many were lured into the refreshing depths of the marble pool. The committee in charge of the affair was composed of Reuben Albaugh, chairman; C. A. Wall, Charles Herbst, Ellis Turner, Jim McAshan, Barry Talbot.

Senior Banquet—The Seniors enjoyed delicious food and cool breezes on the Rice Roof at their banquet on Saturday evening, June 4. The permanent officers of the class were elected, and the rest of the program was devoted to the principal speakers, Dr. Stockton Axson and Mr. W. M. Standish.

Baccalaureate Sermon—On the quiet Sunday morning of June 5, 1932, the academic procession headed by Dr. Edgar Odell Lovett and Rev. George A. Buttrick, pastor of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church of New York City, followed by the faculty and the members of the Senior Class proceeded slowly into the Academic Court and were seated. Here Dr. Buttrick delivered to the seventeenth graduating class of Rice Institute the baccalaureate sermon on "The Fire Bringer." In the direct address he pled for crusaders with a noble and lasting enthusiasm to conquer fear and to instill in the world new mental and spiritual energy.

Commencement

Baccalaureate

Commencement—The young men and women of the class of 1932 ended their undergraduate days at Rice Institute with a simple but impressive exercise in the Academic Quadrangle. Color was given to the occasion by the vari-colored hoods symbolizing the attainment of academic rank worn by members of the faculty who headed the academic procession.

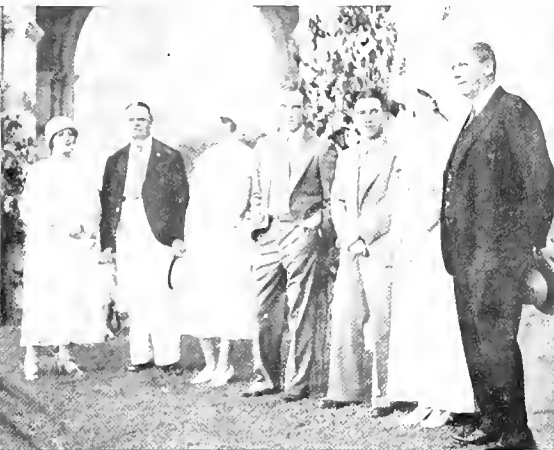

The commencement address was delivered by Dean Roscoe Pound of Harvard School of Law, who took as his subject "Analogies from History." Dr. Lovett announced the establishment of several scholarships and fellowships by friends of the Institute and read a list of the winners of other special awards. The Institute and read a list of the winners of other special awards. The long awaited moment arrived, and Dr. Lovett conferred the degrees and the symbolizing hoods.

Senior Reception—The stately Italian pines and the formal hedges of the Academic Court served as a fitting background for the garden party given by Dr. and Mrs. Edgar Odell Lovett for the Seniors and their friends. They were assisted by the officers of the Senior Class, Dean Roscoe Pound and Mrs. Pound.

Final Ball—The social ball was given its final push on the sultry evening of June 6 when the Seniors gave their dance in the Rice ballroom. There was no pretense of elaborate decorations, but the dance was characterized rather by its spirit. From within a gay whirl of colorful summer dresses, duty-bound Seniors and familiar faces emerged. During the intermissions, the crowd rushed to the balcony seeking chairs and a few minutes of fresh air. Lee's Owls played until supper at 12 o'clock, and Henry Busse finished out the evening. Chairman—ALBERT LEWIS

RALLY CLUB DANCE

The Rally Club dances of the past honoring the football boys have not been marked by any outstanding originality in decorations, but the dance this year on November 26 at the Houston Club lacked not only originality but actual decorations. However, this was one of those times when ornamentation was not needed to assure success. A large crowd with the aid of portable refreshments whole-heartedly assisted the football team to break training. The dancers swayed to the music of Vic Insirillo and his R.K. Orlans, and at 2 a.m. everyone seemed entirely satisfied with himself and the dance.

O.W.L.S.-BAND DANCE

The steady downfall of rain on Thanksgiving Eve failed to dampen the spirits of those who danced in the River Oaks ballroom. For the Owen Wister Literary Society and the Rice Band were the hosts and provided for them the setting of a harvest field and all the splendor of an orange harvest moon. Lee's Owls furnished both music and amusement when they made a slight mistake and insisted upon playing "Harlem Moon." Miss Rui McBride, torch singer, added warmth to the dance with her appealing songs.

The Owen Wister pledges who had been honored by the society with a dinner at the Houston Club earlier in the evening were introduced at the dance and provided the variety so necessary for some. General Chairman—MARGARET ZENOR. FRANKLIN MONTGOMERY

ENGINEERS' BALL

With their characteristic flair for the unique, the Engineers opened the 1932 social season with an outstanding ball on Thursday evening, November 10, at River Oaks Country Club. An especially striking part of the decorations was a black backdrop, behind the orchestra, showing a locomotive emerging from a tunnel with a bright headlight that played over the dancers. Over the mouth of the tunnel the word "Engineers" was written in glazed metal, and on either side were large Rice seals lettered in the same manner. Lee Chatham and his new Owl band with the diminutive blues singer, Rui McBride, made their first appearance at a Rice dance and provided melodious inspiration for the Institute dancers from 10 until 2:30. Much credit was due the decorations committee: Grover Geiselman, general chairman; and Douglas Ragland, financial manager. Profits from the dance went to the fund to keep the Autry House open.

Houston Club Banquet Room

"R" BANQUET

The annual "R" banquet honoring the Rice football and cross-country teams was held Friday night, December 2, at 7 o'clock at the Houston Club. Short talks were made by Captain Tom Driscoll, Coach Meagher, and Dr. Edgar Odell Lovett, President of the Institute, before Mr. McCants awarded the following men their letters in football: Captain Tom Driscoll, Adams, Burk, Clore, Conklin, Dickey, V. Driscoll, Hammett, Hander, Harris, Hinman, Knight, Lagow, F. Lauterbach, R. Lauterbach, McCauley, McKinnon, Mickelson, Myer, Nicholson, Richardson, Sadler, Schultz, Scott, Thrasher, Strong, P. Wallace, W. Wallace.

Fred Lauterbach, tackle, from San Antonio, was elected by his mates to captain the 1933 team. Fay Lagow, 1932 all-Southwestern guard, was awarded the George Martin trophy after being selected as the Owls' most valuable player.

Luther Stark, prominent Rice football booster from Orange, warmly praised the work of Coach Meagher and Dr. Gaylord Johnson, business manager, and congratulated the team on their work for the year.

Lloyd Gregory, sports editor from the Houston Post, awarded the Houston Post trophy to Harrison Stafford, star Texas University backfield man, chosen by Southwest sports writers as the Conference's most valuable player.

SOPHOMORE DANCE

With shrieks of laughter, the upper and lower classmen at Rice Institute lost their identity as college students and became children again when they slid down a large coaster into the Sophomore Kid Party, February 8, at River Oaks Country Club. Picking each other up, they found themselves in a nursery with large drops on the side and end walls painted with nursery rhymes in bright colors. Old Mother Hubbard, Little Jack Horner, Humpty Dumpty, the Cow that Jumped Over the Moon, the Three Blind Mice, and all the others watched the merry, rollicking crowd swinging one another into corners of the room with pop-the-whip, or enjoying the milder sports of marbles and jacks on the floor. Minnie and Mickey Mouse by the entrance doors gazed with raised eyebrows on the abbreviated rompers and dresses of the little maids, and the knickers and little Lord Fauntleroy suits of the boys. Big baby dolls were in evidence, but dogs of every size and pedigree were favorite pets of the evening. After midnight, Roberta Woods, president of the Sophs, led her young guests in a grand march around the nursery. It was a good party even if all the guests did see pink elephants and scarlet cats on the walls.

ARCHI-ARTS COSTUME BALL

With an enigmatical smile playing around his lips, the sinister face of Ivan "The Terrible" gazed down from above the ancestral gates of 16th century Moscow over the throng of revelers at the Archi-Arts ball on February 21 at River Oaks Country Club. The "Horovod," romantic festival of the time, brought not only the peasants and Cossacks, but the boyars and their ladies of high degree whom Ivan hated bitterly. Through the great cathedral windows, the warm light filtered over the snowy and moonlit city towers and streets. Lee and his Owls played from a bandstand typical of Russian cities of centuries past, which had a background of deep blue done in bizarre tracery. Supper was served on the terrace hung with murals in modernistic design. Russian tea was served from brass samovars, and the menu consisted of dainties typical of Russia.

THE JUNIOR PROM

On March 1, 1933, attracted by the promise of music by Joe Sander's Nighthawks and by the traditional formality, a large crowd gathered for the Junior Prom at River Oaks Country Club. This, one of the stateliest of Rice dances, is given annually in honor of the Seniors.

A striking effect was created by the simple decorations and by a prismatic reflector suspended from the center ceiling which caught the red and green colors of the indirect lighting and showered the room with minute particles of reflected light.

At 1:30 a.m. Miss Hallie Beth Talley, vice president, and Dan Webster, president of the Junior Class, led the grand march, which was the feature of the evening. Shortly afterward a buffet supper was served the guests.

During the latter part of the evening the formal restraint was eased by Joe Sander's announcement suggesting that the weary ones "just lie down on the floor and take it easy" during a long medley of college tunes.

The Cast for "In a Garden"

DRAMATIC CLUB ACTIVITIES

The Rice Dramatic Club opened a brilliant season of dramatic activity with the following officers in charge: Robert Talley, President; Stanislaus Cowley, Vice President; Joseph Aleo, Treasurer; Mary Beth Huddleston, Secretary; and Earle Douglas, Member-at-Large. Mr. R. R. Adeock, prominent Houstonian, served as Director, and Mr. J. D. Thomas, English instructor, served as Faculty Adviser and Assistant Director. Major productions were presented in the Little Theatre building, and club meetings, where workshop plays were frequently directed and presented by student club members, were held at the Autry House.

"In a Garden" by Philip Barry was the first major production of the year. This play was presented at the Little Theatre on Chelsea Boulevard, Friday, January 13, 1933. A large and appreciative audience received the club's initial 1933 season production. Adrian Terry was played by A. D. Krantz. Lissa Terry was played by Juanita Luck with convincing finesse. Henry Edwards as Roger Compton did a beautiful piece of work with a small part. Other parts which were adequately and convincingly handled were those of Norris Bliss, performed by George Pike, and Miss Mabie by Ruth Barry. Raymond Cook had the role of Frederic. The following served in various capacities: Scenery, Delwin James; Properties, Raymond Cook and Lois Schwartz; Programs, Joe Aleo; Make-up, Marian Seaman; Stage Manager, John Cook; Electrician, Earle Douglas.

The Cast for "Anne's Little Affair"

"Hell-Bent Fer Heaven," a Pulitzer Prize play, written by Hughes Hatcher, was presented by the club on March 29, 1933 at the Houston Little Theatre on Chelsea Boulevard. The play dealt with the life of North Carolina mountaineers. The tone of the play was a sombre one but admirably depicted by an excellent cast.

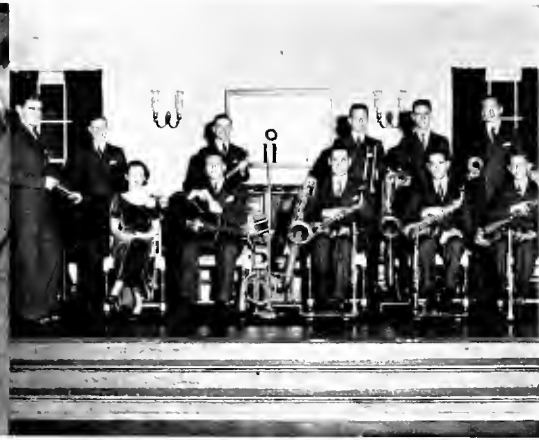

The cast included Harry Bloom as Rufe Pryor, Card Elliott, Jr. as Matt Hunt, Billie Knight as Meg Hunt, Stan Cowley as Andy Lowry, Melba Slimpin as Jude Lowry, Henry Edwards as David Hunt.

John Cook assisted as Stage Manager, and the sets were designed and executed by George Pike and Raymond Cook.

"Anne's Little Affair" by Harry Osborne, the spring production of the 1932-1933 season, was presented at the Rice Playhouse, 308 Anita, on May 12 and 13, 1932. The cast included Rowena MacLaughlin as Anne Lane, the lovely and charming heroine; Marian Seaman as Mrs. Bonner, an entertaining and highly individual dowager with social aspirations; Melba Slimpin as Geraldine Bonner, spoiled but interesting young daughter of the new-rich; Gerald Richardson as Harold Bonner, the handsome young scion of the wealthy family who feared he might get into the clutches of Mrs. Creswell, fascinating widow, played with animation and insight by Margaret Wright; Robert Talley as Mr. Bonner, plain man who cared little for his wife's social ambitions; Herman Lloyd as Barney Barnum, millionaire chauffeur-in-disguise; Earle Douglas as Mr. Wiggins, a detective. This cast included able and talented veteran performers of the club. Others who served in producing the play were as follows: Stage Manager, Francis Vesey; Properties, Helen Batte; Make-up, Bea Harrison; Electrician, Earle Douglas.

Autry House Dance

Pat Quinn and his Rice Owls

SATURDAY NIGHT DANCES

Forsaking their wanderlust, the Saturday night dances came home to a newly decorated University Club for the dances of the first semester. But fate would not allow the dance committee an uneventful year, and a forced move to the Junior League was necessary in the early spring. The white walls accentuating the deep crimson of the draperies, a long, cool porch with a tinkling fountain in the patio below delighted the Saturday-nighters. Pat Quinn and his music-makers with their little "Nobody's Child" soothed away those restless feelings, and brought out fine crowds every week.

TUESDAY DANCES

With characteristic informality and tardiness, the Tuesday afternoon dances at the Autry House persisted through the spring months. In answer to popular demand for the dances, the canteen boys, Joe and Glenn, took them over and promoted them in fine style. The girl stags arrived at 4 o'clock to hold their thumbs until labs were over at 5, and then a short hour of unrivaled fun began. Lee's Owls and Rui McBride furnished the music for these affairs, which, as in the past, provided an opportunity for making new friends and enjoying an afternoon of dancing to good music.

Sir Robert Falconer, Lady Falconer, Dr. H. A. Wilson

LECTURES ON MUSIC

A rare musical treat was offered the Rice students in the lectures of Mr. Harold Morris, composer and pianist now of New York and a graduate of Texas University. Mr. Morris, under the auspices of the Rice Institute Lectureship in Music, delivered three lectures on the evenings of February 23, 24, and 25. His first two, "The History and Tendencies of American Music" and "The Genius and Development of American Composers," were presented in the Physics amphitheater. The third appearance, a lecture-recital of Mr. Morris' own musical compositions, was at the Scottish Rite Cathedral.

LECTURES ON CITIZENSHIP

Sir Robert Falconer and his wife, Lady Falconer, of Toronto, Canada, on their first trip South, were guests at the home of Capt. James A. Baker while in Houston for Sir Robert's series of lectures on Citizenship. Under the Sharp Lectureship in Civics and Philanthropy, Sir Robert delivered four lectures on the evenings of March 21, 22, 23, and 24 in the Physics amphitheater. His general subject was "Factors in the Making of a Complete Citizen" and on the successive evenings he spoke on "Tradition," "Scientific Enquiry," "The Pursuit of Beauty," and "Religion." Dr. J. W. Slaughter presided over the first lecture; Dr. H. A. Wilson, the second; Dr. M. Morand, the third; and Dr. A. D. McKillop, the fourth.

PALLAS ATHENE LITERARY SOCIETY SPORT DANCE

Deviating from their custom of collaborating with a sister literary society, the Pallas Athene Literary Society held their annual sport dance alone at the University Club on the evening of March 31, 1932. Wesley Barry, former well-known freckle-faced boy movie actor and his orchestra, who were in Houston for a short while on the Rice Mezzanine, furnished the music. A smart tri-color scheme of blue, orange, and white was featured in attractive panels on the walls and in striped awnings at the windows. In keeping with the theme, the belles of the Institute paraded the latest in gayly hued sport fashions. Leota Meyer was general chairman of the dance and Madeleine Walton worked out the details of the decorations.

PRE-LAW SPRING DANCE

The Pre-Law spring dance began slowly, but gathered momentum as the evening wore on, and after a pause for refreshments at midnight the party was a real success, helped, no doubt, by the new in-flow of stags. The lawyers opened the doors of the River Oaks Country Club at 10 o'clock, and "Doc" Mize and his Varsitonians from Waco were on hand playing their special brand of red-hot rhythm until 2 a.m. As the date, April 20, 1932, was late in the dance season, semi-formality was the keynote, and spring clothes the vogue. Linen suits and organdy dresses heralded the coming sultry weather. George Dunk and Earl Amerman handled arrangements for the affair.

ENGINEERS' TACKY PARTY

The dark-town harmonizers were moanin' low at the Engineers' Tacky Party at McCordell's Studio on April 22. The blue notes of the Black and Tan Tantalizers set the pace for the engineers, tired from work on the Engineering Show, to "blow off steam." A motley-arrayed crowd drifted in at the unbelievably early hour of 9 o'clock, and from then until past midnight the hairy-eared and their guests galloped around the floor in a mad whirl. Time out was called to choose the tackiest couple on the floor. After a discriminating survey, the judges declared Pineus Grenader, garbed as an Apache, and Hallie Beth Talley, gowned in a frock of the past generation, worthy recipients of the grand prizes. Everyone enjoyed himself until the ice cream gave out, and then it was decided to call it a night.

INTER-LITERARY SOCIETY TEA

The social merry-go-round of 1932-33 was set in motion on October 18, 1932, at the Astry House, when the Elizabeth Baldwin, the Owen Wister and the Pallas Athena Literary Societies gave their annual tea for prospective pledges.

After being properly tagged for means of identification, the guests were received at the door by the officers of the three societies. Miss Sarah Lane and Mrs. Blake served them tea and coffee. From three until six, the girls did nothing in particular except enjoy the display of new fall clothes and submit to the continuous inquiry of do you know?

THE RICE INSTITUTE BAND

The Rice Institute Band, under the able direction of Mr. Lee Chatham, furnishes music for all Rice activities requiring its services and offers musical training and expression to interested students. From an embryo of twelve members, the band membership expanded to a high mark of eighty-eight men in 1931, but recently hovers around fifty. The band plays at all home athletic events and, when possible, accompanies the teams on out of town games. It is particularly representative of Rice.

Members of the band are awarded Rice sweaters after meeting certain qualifications as to ability and attitude, and attendance at games and commencement exercises.

The revenue for the band, financing trips, music and uniforms, is obtained from a fixed percentage of the student blanket tax, a sum set aside by the administration, donations from Houston citizens, and profit from the annual dance given by the band with the Owen Wister Literary Society.

The officers elected at the annual stag banquet in June for this year were: President, William R. Long; Business Manager, C. Franklin Montgomery; Vice President, Milton Peterson; and Librarian, Kittrell Reid.

The Elizabeth Baldwin Literary Society

The Elizabeth Baldwin Literary Society, the oldest of the literary societies, was established as an aid in advancing the best interests of the women students of the Rice Institute, to promote among them a feeling of good-fellowship which shall reach beyond the span of their college years, to benefit them through training in literary expression and public utterance, and to foster a general spirit of college loyalty in the Rice Institute activities. As this is undoubtedly as vast an aim as it is worthy, the society feels its work in this direction is commendable.

The most important activity of the club is philanthropic work, a scholarship being given every year and other lesser gifts being made throughout the year. This year short stories were studied for the literary program.

Pledging activities consume a large part of the fall entertainment program with the pledge dinner one of the most important affairs. At Thanksgiving the club entertains with a breakfast with Dr. Axson as the guest speaker. In the early spring the E.B.L.S. usually joins with the P.A.L.S. to give their annual dance. Proceeds from this dance, the annual card party, book reviews, and the May Fete concessions constitute the sources of income for the main projects of the club's yearly program.

According to "The Owl," "this organization has tendencies both academic and genealogical, in addition to its purely literary interests."

The Owen Wister Literary Society

This society is the youngest of the three literary societies and follows them in the study of such literature as is of interest to the members of the society. Special attention is given the works of modern novelists during the programs of the weekly meetings. During the year, several open meetings are held, at which members of the faculty serve as guest speakers.

The annual Thanksgiving dance given with the members of the band is sponsored as a means of obtaining the fund donated every year to the Institute library, with which books, letters, and manuscripts especially pertaining to the history of the Southwest are added to the library shelves.

In the fall, the pledges are entertained with a formal dinner and the members are entertained at the initiation of the pledges following the mid-year examination schedule. Also a formal dinner party is given in honor of the Seniors in the late spring.

Finances for seasonal charity work and general running expenses are met by the publication of the student directory and the several May Fete concessions.

Quoting "The Owl": "Probably O.W.L.S. is the most literary of the three [Literary Societies], but it also counts as advantageous politics and scholarships."

The Pallas Athene Literary Society

The Pallas Athene Literary Society in carrying out its program of the study of contemporary literature this year studied modern literary works in poetry, prose, and drama. The club's attention and energy are largely concentrated on the raising of the scholarship fund and contributions to the Community Chest and Astry House. This year the money was raised by several projects: a scavenger hunt, bridge party, sponsorship of dances at the Lamar Hotel, and the sports dance.

Pledging activities and the dinner for the pledges in November hold the interest of the club in the early fall, and the Christmas party at Rusk Settlement for the Mexican children constitutes the P.A.L.S. seasonal charity. The pledges are given a formal dinner party at initiation in February and the Seniors are honored at a dinner in May.

"The Owl" says, "Its main interest is literary, but tendencies social and pulchritudinous have also been noticed."

The Baptist Student Union

The Baptist Student Union serves to unite the various independent unit organizations for students in the Baptist churches of Houston and is governed by the B.S.U. Council elected from the campus. The Union for its commendable activity this year has been awarded high distinction rarely given student organizations affiliated with nondenominational schools.

The year's program is planned and outlined at the fall and spring Retreats at Casa Del Mar and definite arrangements are made for the election of fifteen delegates to the "Olympiette," a statewide convention held annually at Brownwood, the Thanksgiving Breakfast which this local chapter sponsors for all Baptist Student Unions of Texas, the Student Night Programs in churches at Christmas, and the Senior Banquet in June.

Much philanthropic work is done every year by the B.S.U., notably at the Toy Hospital operated every Christmas, which repairs and distributes approximately a thousand toys to poor children of the city.

The Rally Club

The Rally Club plays a most noticeable role in the life of the school. Formerly the club sponsored the Tuesday afternoon dances at Antry House. This year it contributed to the Antry House fund from money taken in at dances sponsored by it.

The annual break-training dance given by the Rally Club at the close of the football season is always most welcome and effective.

A contract with the Athletic Association to usher for athletic events furnishes the club's running expenses.

The Engineering Society

The Engineering Society was formed fifteen years ago by student engineers who felt that the various branches of engineering, Civil, Mechanical, Electrical and Chemical, served to separate students actually of like interests. The Society brings together in biweekly meetings all of these branches.

The expenses of the society are met with the proceeds from the annual dance which it sponsors in the fall. Every spring, the society entertains its members and guests at a formal banquet, when officers for the ensuing year are chosen and Freshmen engineers initiated.

By far the most important project of the society is the launching of the Biennial Engineering Show which necessitates extensive expenditure of time and energy by the Engineers. This exhibition attracts thousands of interested spectators, and acquaints the public with the work done at The Rice Institute. In recent years the departments of science have co-operated with the Society in presenting the show.

The Pre-Medical Society

The Pre-Medical Society holds its meetings biweekly on Tuesday nights at Antry House. At a majority of the meetings there is some doctor of the city invited to speak on his special line of work. At each meeting there are also two student reports given. These short speeches are taken from up-to-date research work in the medical world that is of public interest, and are taken mostly from articles as found in pamphlets in the Physics Library.

This year the club has had the privilege of visiting the offices of some of the doctors to examine special equipment used in that particular doctor's office, and to learn something of his type of medical specialty. The club also visits the hospitals of the city and makes a yearly visit to the State Medical School at Galveston.

Social activities of the society are carried out in the form of a dance and a few parties each year. This year the Pre-Med. dance was given jointly with the Elizabeth Baldwin Literary Society.

The purpose of the society, as can be seen from the above described functions, is to give the pre-medical students of the school the privilege of hearing the doctors in the various fields of medicine in order that they might learn more about the things they are interested in. Also the club endeavors to get its members interested in the current happenings in the medical world by the reports that are given.

The Young Women's Christian Association

The Rice Institute Y.W.C.A. is under the wing of the Houston Y.W.C.A., and its aims are largely religious in character, as it desires to understand, promote and promulgate the teachings of the Christian faith. In this connection the meetings of the organization make use of program material concerned with current ethical and religious problems.

Soon after the opening of school each year, the Y.W.C.A. sponsors at Antry House the Big-Little-Sister Dance for Freshman girls of the Institute. Annually the members spend a short time at the Y.W.C.A. Retreat at Casa Del Mar. At Easter the organization entertains the Mexican children at Rusk Settlement with an Easter party as one of the club's many philanthropic activities.

Principal group program participation is occasioned by the World Disarmament discussion in connection with the Cause and Cure of War Movement, and the Interracial group discussions. Contact is made with Y.W.C.A. organizations all over the country at the annual Regional Y Conference in Hollister, Missouri.

The Pre-Law Association is an organization of those students in the Institute who are taking courses preparatory to entering law school and who are expecting at some time to enter the legal profession. It was organized in 1922 for reasons both social and "of the law," with selfish and altruistic motives, that is, for benefit of the lawyers themselves and of the life of the Institute. Continued interest in the Association among our budding young lawyers and senators and also among the rest of us testifies eloquently as to its success in both fields and in both motives.

At each meeting, some prominent local lawyer is invited as speaker to acquaint the members both with members of the Houston Bar and with something of the practical side of the law. Several times during the year, the Pre-Laws entertain with banquets, usually held at Ye Old College Inn. Annually a final banquet is given at the Houston Club. Perhaps the largest undertaking of the Association is the sponsoring of a dance every year, the date of which is biennially shared with the Pre-Med Society. Proceeds from this dance are usually donated to the library for the purchase of books pertinent to the subject of law. Finances of the club for regular expenses are obtained from payment by the Open Forum in return for services of the members of the Pre-Law Association as ushers at the Open Forum meetings.

The Architectural Society is an organization in which architects are eligible to membership after having successfully completed one year of Architecture, at the end of which time, if elected to membership, they are pledged to be made active members during their Junior, Senior, and Post Graduate years.

Although the Architectural Society is social in nature, it accomplishes projects other than social. This year, its main interest was in raising the money for a traveling fellowship in architecture given annually to the most talented architect. The society is ambitious to effect a more lively interest of Houstonians appreciative of art and architecture in the Department of Architecture and is constantly working toward this end. Quite frequently, Houston men, prominent in fields related to architecture in some way, address the meetings of the society.

The annual costume ball designed and executed by the Architectural Society is invariably one of the most colorful of the season and is held in a setting decorated with rare beauty and skill by the architects. In the spring, the members of the society celebrate by entertaining with the annual picnic.

The Writing Club is an organization for the purpose of fostering in the students of the school any aspirations which they might have toward creative writing. Any student becomes a member of the club upon the reading of an original manuscript. The meetings, which are held once a week, are conducted in an informal manner. Each young author reads his own manuscript and everyone is encouraged to comment and criticize on the material read, thus affording opportunities for the practice of literary criticism. This year three members have been at work on novels while others have regularly contributed poems, short stories and essays. Unfortunately, nothing was published by the Writing Club for 1933.

The club has long been under the guiding hands of Dr. Axson and Mr. George Williams of the English Department.

The Thresher, the weekly newspaper of Rice Institute, gathers and prints all items of news interest about the Campus. In addition, it exchanges news with leading colleges and universities all over the country. This year the editorial section and the column treating of campus personalities (aptly entitled "The Gasser") especially attracted the notice of the sharp-eyed campus. Work on the Thresher offers practically the only journalistic training available at the Institute and so is, of course, of value in that field.

All issues are handled by the regular staff with the exception of special issues in the spring which are put out by the several classes beginning with the Senior Class and continuing four weeks. The Co-eds have charge of the issue for the week following that of the Freshmen.

All special numbers were done away with, and a standardized cover was used throughout the year. In order to make the magazine more timely, the interest was shifted to student and town activities and stories and articles of this nature were given preference over jokes. One page in each issue was reserved for sketches of prominent students. The Squad and Coaches

September 21—The Owls opened the season with a win over T.C.A. and I. on Rice Field before a large opening game crowd of 4000. Thrasher, P. Wallace, and Scott scored touchdowns in the first half. The score was 20-0.

October 15—The Owls could have beaten Loyola any way they wished, but decided to do it the hard way. They played under wraps most of the way. Capt. Driscoll and Bill Wallace scored touchdowns for the Owls. The game ended 14 to 7, Rice.

October 29—Creighton played a good game during the first half, but the hot weather and the Owl reserve strength wore them down in the second half. Thrasher scored three times for the Owls, while Pat Wallace, Doc Metzler, and Mike Hale scored one apiece. The final score was 41-7.

October 2—Senator "Kingfish" Long came to town and saw the Owls beat his L.S.U. Tigers 10-8. "Biff" Jones, former West Point mentor, is the present coach of the Tigers.

The game was hard fought every inch of the way, with Big John McCauley doing the heavy duty work for the Owls and Burt Yates disconcerting the Owls from time to time with his quick kicking.

The Owls won the game in the last 3 minutes of play when Captain Driscoll booted the ball between the goal posts. Up to that moment, the Owls had been trailing the Tigers most of the way. The Owls decided to kick when tries at the line failed to put the ball across from the 3-yard line.

A blocked punt which was covered for Rice by Randy Strong on the L.S.U. 27-yard line led to the Owls' first and only touchdown. A pass, McCauley to Clore, a play seldom used by the Owls during the 1932 season, scored the touchdown for them. Pud Hammett replaced McCauley and kicked the extra point as the spectators began rising from their seats and filing out of the stands.

October 8—Sixteen thousand fans turned up at Fair Park Stadium in Dallas to watch the Owls tromp the Mustangs for the first time in 12 years, 13-0, after Ray Morrison had assured the Dallasites that his team would have little trouble with the Birds from Houston.

The Owls' first score came after a 67-yard drive down the field, which featured the work of Bill Wallace, Nooky Nicholson, and John McCauley in the ball carrying department. Wallace skirted the Pony right end for 13 yards and a touchdown. Not an opponent's hand was laid on him as he galloped for the goal line.

The second touchdown resulted from a 50-yard drive through Mustang territory. Captain Driscoll, McCauley, and Bill Wallace were instrumental in carrying the ball goalward. Wallace again circled the Mustang right end for the touchdown. Captain Driscoll kicked the final point of the game.

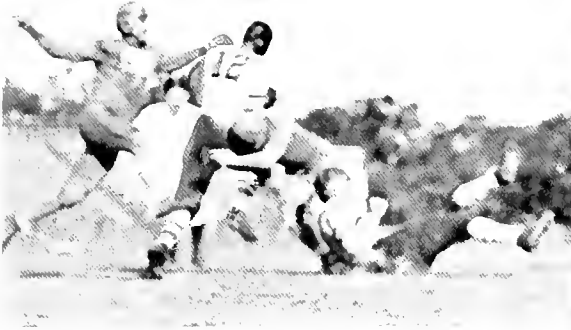

Odis Harris, Ox Hinman, and Fred Lauterbach were outstanding in the line, while Tom Driscoll played an inspired defensive game at fullback.

Thump!

October 22—More than 20,000 people, the largest crowd ever to see a Rice game, packed Rice Field to overflowing to watch a fighting Owl team go down to defeat before a heavy, determined Longhorn eleven, 13-6.

Paced by Bohn Hilliard, a brilliant sophomore find, the Steers scored a touchdown early in the first quarter when Hilliard lugged the ball over the Owls' goal line. Koy, bruising Texas fullback, went over for the second counter in the second quarter. A 50-yard pass, Koy to Hilliard, in the third quarter accounted for the final Steer score.

The Owls' only touchdown came in the third quarter after McCauley and Wallace had carried the ball to the Texas 11-yard line where it was first down. Nicholson hit center for a yard, McCauley picked up three more yards off tackle, and then Nicholson shook off six would-be Longhorn tacklers on a reverse play over the Texas right guard for the touchdown. Both teams went scoreless in the final quarter.

The Owls really lost the game in the second quarter when, largely through the efforts of big John McCauley who ripped the Texas line time after time for consecutive gains, they carried the ball to the 5-yard line. They lost 10 yards on a fumble and a crawling penalty in two successive downs and finally lost the ball to the Steers on the 12-yard line.

November 5—In Fayetteville, a howling home-coming crowd, a steady drizzle, and a fighting Hog team nearly upset the Owls. Rice managed to win, 12-7, in the last few minutes of play. Thrasher flipped a 35-yard pass to V. Driscoll and carried the ball most of the remaining 30 yards for the winning touchdown. McCauley galloped 30 yards through center, and Bill Wallace reeled off 30 yards over left guard for Rice's first counter.

Thrasher was Rice's greatest ground gainer. Nicholson played well at fullback, and Lagow starred in the line.

November 26—Because the sterling defense of Capt. Tom Driscoll made the Baylor offense impotent and his blocking rendered their offense ineffective, the Owls disposed of the Bears easily, 12-0, on Rice Field. McCauley and P. Wallace scored the touchdowns. Bill Wallace, Harris, Thrasher, and Richardson also played well for the Owls.

November 11—Too many fumbles and too many dropped passes cost the Owls their game with the Aggies on Kyle Field on Armistice Day. Apparently determined to play their worst game of the season, the Owls put on a sorry exhibition of football.

The Owls finally scored their lone touchdown of the game late in the last quarter. Bill Wallace dashed 63 yards for a touchdown. The Owl score came immediately after the Aggies' second touchdown of the game. Wallace's run was the first play after Vic Driscoll took the kick-off on his own 31-yard line and ran six yards before being downed.

Shortly afterwards, a long pass was completed from McCauley to Wallace, who galloped over the goal line. Officials ruled Wallace had stepped out of bounds in catching the ball and ruled the pass incomplete.

Pud Hammett, the Ranger sheriff, and Jap Thrasher did most of the ball carrying for the Owls. DeWitt Knight and Dan Richardson showed up well at ends. Captain Driscoll sustained a broken rib in the game.

The Aggie touchdowns came in the second and fourth quarters. The final score was Rice 7, A. and M. 14.

The Play on which Oliver, T.C.U., (Carrying the Ball) Had His Jaw Broken

November 19

A strong Horned Frog eleven with a line that had gained the reputation of being the strongest in the Conference had to resort to an aerial game to down a scrapping Owl crew on Rice Field, 16-6.

McKinnon scored the Owls' only touchdown on a pass from McCauley after McCauley, Bill Wallace, and Capt Tom Driscoll had alternated in carrying the ball 77 yards down the field in the third quarter to make the score 10-6. They lost their one chance to win late in the fourth quarter when Langdon of T. C. U. intercepted Hammett's pass in the flat zone and galloped over the goal line.

The Frogs scored their first touchdown on a 20 yard pass from Dennis to Oliver in the first few minutes of play. Dennis kicked the extra point. An Owl fumble on their own 11 yard line late in the first quarter paved the way for Tiner's field goal.

The Owls put up a determined fight all the way and tackled so fiercely that four T. C. U. all-Conference players were relegated to the sidelines, three for the remainder of the game.

Captain Tom Driscoll was the individual star of the game, tackling fiercely and surely all the way. Lagow, Hinman, Fred Lauterbach, Burk, and Dickey were largely instrumental in whipping the elephantine Horned Frog line. Strong and McKinnon played their best game of the season at ends.

A. AND M. SERIES

The Owls got off to a disastrous start in their opening engagement of the 1933 season on January 7. Taking on the howling cadets in the Aggies' gym at College Station, the Rice team was smothered 36-18. Once the smooth-working Farmer offensive started clicking amid the ear-splitting cheers of the Aggie student body, there was no doubt of the outcome.

The best the Owls were able to do when the Aggies came to Houston was to shave ten points from the Aggie score. The final count in a game replete with missed baskets was 26-18. The game was played on February 11.

BAYLOR SERIES

The Owls took the defending champions into camp in Houston, 45-28 on January 11. The work of Snider and Journeyay was outstanding.

Waco was the site of the Owls' only other victory of the season. The Rice team saved itself from a cellar berth by a rousing 39-35 win in an extra-time game.

The Owls played a much better game against the Horned Frogs in Houston on February 25 and came very near upsetting the vaunted Christians. The final count was 37-34 in favor of the Frogs. The expert shooting of Snider and Journeay gave the Owls a 20-10 lead at the half, but the Kittsmen were unable to hold it.

TEXAS SERIES

The Owls dropped their first game with the title-winning Longhorns in Houston by a 33-24 score in the last five minutes of play. The Kittsmen led by Journeay and Snider, and protected by the careful guarding of Captain Koeb and Dixon, had matched the Steers point for point up until that time.

S. M. U. SERIES

Many Rice partisans believe to this day that the Owls were robbed of their first game with the Mustangs in Dallas on January 23. The Rice team lost the decision when the Pony student manager, who acted as official scorer, claimed a one-point victory for the Mustangs, 34-33, despite the protests of newspaper men that the score was tied at 33 all.

The Mustangs scored four points in an over-time period to win over the Owls in Houston on February 28, the final game of the season. The final score was 26-24. Johnson was outstanding for the Owls.

TRACK, 1932

Hard luck ignored the "posted" signs tacked about the Owl domain and proceeded to hunt the Birds out of their place of security and shoot them down without mercy. Before the remorseless huntsman began to dog their every move, the Owls were reasonably sure of easy sailing to the conference track title.

The unwelcome huntsman took a liking to the Owls at the triangular meet in Austin between the Owls, the Aggies and the Steers. In that meet, Ray Harbour was spiked too severely to take part in the conference meet the following week.

In the preliminaries of the conference meet in Houston, Wendel Ley failed to qualify in the low hurdles, in which he was considered a cinch to place. The grandstands thought that Ley had beat out McVey of A. and M. for third and raised an unavailing wail at the officials' decision. Jamerson failed to qualify in the 220-yard dash.

The Owls thought they had eluded their persecutor when next day they eked out a 146 point lead over the Longhorns to win the meet, 49½ to 48 1/3; but to put the finishing touches to the whole disappointing affair, conference authorities early in December disqualified one of the Rice distance men and awarded the conference title to the Steers.

Ed Holloway took second place scoring honors with 10 points, having annexed both the short dashes. The team of Holloway, Dixon, Coffee, and Jamerson won the 440-yard relay for Rice. Holloway again took both the short dashes and was anchor man on the victorious quarter mile relay team of Driscoll, Coffee, Jamerson, and Holloway. Jackson and Hitt tied for first in the high jump, while Chambers finished second in the 440-yard dash.

TRIANGLE MEET AT AUSTIN

Tom Driscoll and Coffee came in third and fourth, respectively, in that event. Driscoll also came in third in the 220-yard dash, which Holloway won. With Jamerson and Chambers, they were members of the Rice 440-yard relay team, which finished first in that event. Jamerson finished fourth in the 440-yard dash, and Schulze finished in the same position in the half mile. CONFERENCE MEET

May 11—In what was probably the most thrilling track meet ever held in the Southwest Conference, the Owls nosed out the Longhorns by 116 points for the title. The score at that time was Rice 49½, Texas 48 1/3. In December, a man who finished second for Rice in the two-mile was ruled ineligible and Texas was given the title, the score becoming Texas 48 1/3, Rice 16½.

Six new records were set during the meet, the Owls copping three of them. Captain Baldry set a new record of 13 feet 2½ inches in the pole vault, Mike Hale jumped 24 feet 9¾ for a new record in the broad jump, and the Rice relay team of Driscoll, Coffee, Jamerson, and Holloway ran the 440 in 42 seconds, beating their previous record. Cox and Schiller of Texas set new records in the 440-yard dash and the half-mile, respectively. Casper of T.C.U. set a new low hurdles record.

Holloway was high point man of the meet with 12 points, winning the short dashes besides being a member of relay teams that finished first and second, respectively. Burk tied with Sprague of S.M.U. for the shot put, and Aucoin won the high jump.

BASEBALL, 1932

In his second and final year as baseball coach at Rice, Johnny Niemiec came within one game of winning the conference baseball title. The final outcome of the race depended upon the last game of the season between the Aggies and the Longhorns, which the latter won. Had the Aggies won, the Owls would have taken possession of the title. Chester "Smokey" Klaerner was by far the most important factor in the success of the Owls in the 1932 campaign. His feat of winning eight out of ten games placed him on the All-American baseball nine.

Turning back "Slim" Kinzy, Horned Frog ace, 3 to 1 in Houston. "Smokey" Klaerner started off the 1932 conference race in grand style. Sensational catches by Ken Lee and Ralph Jones, and two-base hits by Jones and "Bubba" Koch featured the play of the Owls. In Fort Worth for the second game of the series, Koch blasted out a triple and Kelly Scott and "Pud" Hammett collected a pair of hits each to boost Klaerner to his second win over Kinzy and the Frogs, 10 to 3.

In a thirteen-inning thriller that gave the Owls a 3 to 2 victory on their own field, Klaerner broke the Longhorn jinx for a day. Next day Frank Terranella's change of pace baffled the Steers, but he and his mates booted the ball all over the lot to allow the Longhorns to overhaul them and win 4 to 3. An umpire's poor decision at home plate cost Klaerner and his mates their first game in Austin against the Steers. The Longhorns took the game 3 to 2 in 11 innings. On the day following, the Steer swatsmiths blasted Virgil Dixon from the mound in four innings to win 10 to 3. Terranella pitched steady ball for the remaining five innings.

BAYLOR SERIES

On April 7 in Houston against the Bears, Klaerner chalked up the first of his two no-hit, no-run victories of the season, the Owls taking the contest 4-0. In Waco, the Owls went on an error spree and donated the second game of the series to the Bears 8 to 7.

Six men carried the Blue and Gray up one more rung in the ladder toward regaining the Southwest Conference golf championship, which the Owls were forced to relinquish to the Mustangs in 1931. Captain Reuben Albaugh played position Number 1 for the Owls; Jack Cole, position number 2; Bill Barton, position number 3; and Bob Morcom, Ralph Nemir, and George McCarthy alternated at the fourth position for the Owls.

In the conference meet at Austin on May 11 and 12, 1932, the Owls came out third, coming within 3 points of tying with Southern Methodist for second place. In the year previous, the best the Owls were able to manage was fourth place. Texas won the team championship with an aggregate low of 309. Southern Methodist had a score of 319; and the Owls came in with 322. Dennis Lavender won the singles championship for the Mustangs.

All six of Rice's golfers made the trip to Austin. McCarthy and Nemir paying their own way. Albaugh, Cole, and Barton reached the quarter finals. Barton tied with Dick Gregg of Texas and O'Hara Watts of Southern Methodist for medalist honors.

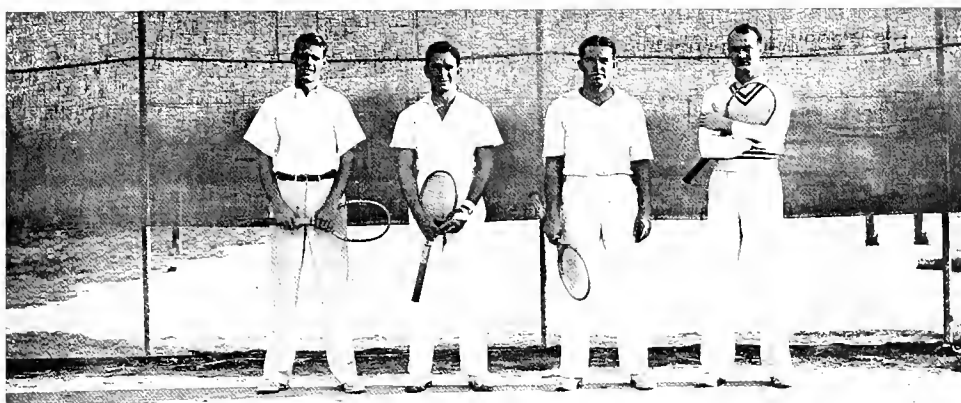

The Owls won two of their three dual meets with conference foes. They won from A. and M. 5 matches to 1; and they beat Southern Methodist 4 matches to 2. They lost to Texas 5 to 1. Southwest Conference Tennis champions at last! After many years of disappointment, the Owls came through with the singles championship and very nearly copped the doubles title as well. Captain Jake Hess defeated Karl Kamrath, Texas ace, to gain the singles crown.

But for Williams' of Texas return of a match-point kill by Jake Hess, the Owls would at this moment be holding the 1932 doubles championship. The return caught Hess and Henry Holden flatfooted, and the Longhorns succeeded in winning that set and the one following to win the doubles championship.

The Owl team, composed of Captain Hess, Holden, Quin Connelley, and Winthrop Carter, swept through all five of their dual meets with conference teams to claim the unofficial team championship of the conference. They manhandled S.M.U. and T.C.U. 6-0, dropped one match to Baylor and one to A. & M. and defeated Texas 4-2.

Although Hess is no longer eligible to play on the Rice team because of his graduation, he returned to school in the fall of 1932 and was on hand this season to give the Owls the advantage of the knowledge he gained by years on the courts.

Band- Architects Game

INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL

The annual grudge battle between the Rally Club and the Band, which has grown to be a tradition on the campus, was extended into a four-team, round robin series. The other two competing football teams were the Architects and the Outlaws, the latter being an independent group recruited mostly from the academic students. The Rally Club finished second in the series, which was won by the Outlaws, and the Architects finished third, while the Band was relegated to the cellar.

Joe Lagow and Clem Stonecipher coached the championship Outlaw aggregation, while Bob Myer was in charge of the Rally Club team. John Coffee was the head man on the Architect coaching staff. Lou Hassel and Jim McKinnon were the Band mentors.

In the first contest, the Outlaws smacked the Rally Club 12-6. Tryon Robinson pushed over the Outlaws' first touchdown on two line plunges after a pass. Ford to Kocurek, had carried the ball about 20 yards to the 8-yard line. With a brilliant run through a broken field, featured by sensational cut-backs and reverses which carried him through the entire Rally Club team, Eaton accounted for the Outlaws' second touchdown, after receiving a Rally Club punt. Gussie McCants took a 30-yard pass from Frank (Dopey) Wallace and cantered 20 yards through an open field for the Rally Club's lone marker.

The battle between the Architects and the Band ended in a 6-6 tie. Steen carried the ball 35 yards through the entire Architect team to account for the Band's only score. Neal Johnson plunged the ball over from the 8-yard line to chalk up the Architects' six points and tie the score. The game between the Architects and the Rally Club and the one between the Outlaws and the Band both ended in scoreless ties.

Wallace spun through the Band team for five touchdowns to account for the Rally Club's 30-0 victory over their archrivals in the final game of the series. In scoring his sensational victory for the Rally Club, Wallace put them up another rung in the ladder toward the eventual possession of the trophy awarded by Joe Eagle, a former member of the Band. The Rally Club so far has won two of the three games played against the Band. Another win will give them the trophy. The Architects and the Outlaws called off their final game.

GIRLS' SPORTS

BASKETBALL—The Rice girls' basketball team enjoyed a most successful season, being crowned undefeated champions of the Y.W.C.A. Church League.

In winning this tournament, the Owlettes trounced the First Baptists 45-22 and 28-18, Woodland Baptists 45-19 and 38-20, and Milby Memorial 35-20 and 43-0. Captain Madelene Simons, Lalla Lee Ehlert, and "Mimi" Knodel furnished the scoring power for the co-eds, while Emmie Craddock, Corinne Hall, Sybilla Stillman, and Kathryn Balcke starred at guard.

The Rice sextet also played Houston Junior College, splitting a two-game series. Rice dropped a practice game to Houston Tennis Club, and then journeyed to Bay City where they were defeated by the high school team of that city 35-18.

The co-eds were fortunate in securing as coach Mrs. Mavis Ehlert, formerly connected with the Dallas Athletic Association, who developed a winning basketball team. Others playing fine ball for Rice were Elizabeth Johnston, Blanche Taylor, Christine Atkinson, and Mildred Ellis.

TENNIS—Tennis is one of the most popular girls' sports at Rice. The Tennis Club is a large, energetic organization whose officers are Kathryn Pearson, president; Katherine Hornor, vice president; Iris Bellows, treasurer; Christine Atkinson, secretary.

The outstanding player is Kathryn Pearson, who in the summer and fall of 1932 won in singles, doubles, and mixed doubles matches in the A.A.U. tournament; singles and doubles in the Rice tournament; singles, doubles, and mixed doubles in the city matches; singles in State girls tournament; and runner-up in State women's tournament. Miss Pearson is ranked No. 9 in singles by the U.S.L.T.A. and No. 5 in doubles. Miss Pearson is considered one of the finest players in the South and was invited to play in the tournament at New Orleans in March, 1933, against such competition as Ruby Bishop, Bonnie Miller, Frances Herron and Jane Sharp. She also plays this year in the River Oaks invitation, A.A.U., Houston, and Rice Institute tournaments.

Gladys Schill (graduate), three times city and Rice champion, Helen Allnoch, and Lois Dawson are other members of the Tennis Club who have been and are outstanding players.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

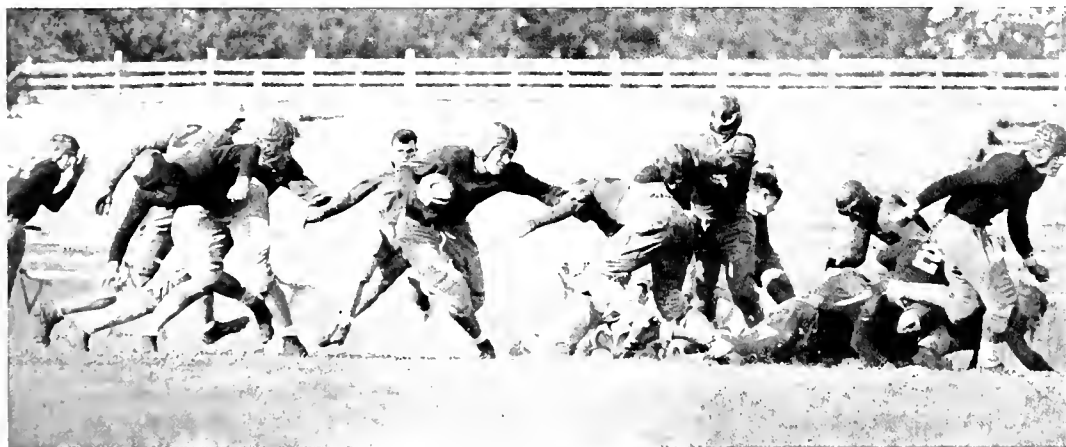

This year's freshman squad was notable for two things. It was the first Slime squad in the recent history of the Institute to go through its three-game schedule without a single defeat to mar its record, and it was the smallest first year football squad in the memory of recent graduates, boasting only 11 regulars.

The team was coached by Jimmy Kitts, a newcomer at Rice, who had made a record for himself as football and basketball coach at Athens High school, and Bert Mueller and Scotty Sawyer, former varsity gridders.

Marshall Junior College was the first victim, the Slimes downing "Susie" Hammel's outfit 19-7. Witt, Brandon, and Hughes starred in the backfield, while Sylvester and Williams were the mainstays in the line.

The second victim was none other than Harry Falkner's famed Terrill Prep eleven, which had never previously suffered defeat at the hands of an Owlet aggregation. The Slimes smeared the Dallasites decisively, 26 to 0. Witt, 200-pound fullback, starred in the backfield, ripping the Terrill line to shreds and scoring two touchdowns. Sylvester was outstanding in the line, kicking two extra points and recovering two Terrill fumbles besides playing a whale of a game at end. Others who showed up well were Young, Sawtelle, Maes, Banks, and Atkins.

Their final victory was over the strong Texas Military College of San Antonio, on Thanksgiving Day, by a score of 20-6, featuring off-tackle drives by Atkins and Witt.

THE RACK

The three desperate characters pictured above are fugitives from justice and compose the nucleus of a gang which has perpetrated a series of heinous crimes in the vicinity of the 6800 block of South Main Boulevard, Houston. The most dreadful of this gang's recent deeds is their cruel treatment of THE RACK, and a reward of $1,000 has been posted for information leading to their arrest and conviction.

The public is warned that these men are no ordinary criminals; they are cunning, shrewd, desperate, and will stop at nothing. (That is, in grading. Zero is as low as they go.—Editor's Note) But poor RACK has been done away with. Shall such a crime go unpunished?

*How Should a Young Fellow Dress
Those First Few Years after he is Out of College?*

So much bunk has been laboriously concocted and solemnly handed out on the subject of what constitutes good taste in dress that it is small wonder that the average man is no more fashion-conscious than he is. "What the well dressed man will wear" has become almost as standard a subject for jokes as the thrift of Scotsmen and the disagreeability of one's mother-in-law. That, we take it, is a natural consequence of the pinheaded type of fashion guidance that always expressed itself in terms of "you mustn't wear this after such an hour" and "you mustn't wear this with this under any circumstances at any hour at all." The average American male has too much inherent horse sense to be bothered very much by a lot of rules that nobody but a gigolo could possibly find either time or inclination to observe. At Sakowitz Bros. you will find sensible styles presented in a sensible manner.

GULF

THE man in the picture is a skilled refinery technologist. He may be a graduate of Rice—Georgia Tech—Carnegie Tech—or any one of the leading engineering schools of the country. As a technician he is one of a corps of men who must pass on every product made by the Gulf Refining Company.

Because of this rigid control, Gulf products are uniformly of the highest quality. The three fine Gulf Gasolines—the three fine Gulf Motor Oils—Gulf Furnace Oil—Gulf Fuel Oil—Gulf Specialties, ranging from Gulf penetrating Oil to Gulf Venom—all meet specifications far beyond those required.

Students and faculty members of the Blue and Gray may be especially interested in Gulfpride Motor Oil, refined by the exclusive Alchior Process, which has established 17 world's records on land, sea, and in the air.

So, just as you cheer "Y-E-A, Rice!" you may shout "Y-E-A, Gulf!" Both represent high ideals.

If you make coffee in any drip coffee making device, be sure to ask your grocer for Admission Dripkut. It makes the finest cup you ever drank. If it isn't Admission Coffee, it isn't Dripkut.

It pays to back a winner

Speed, control, and support win baseball games. When the home team has all the essentials of a pennant winner you "root" for the home team don't you?

Admission Coffee is a 'home team.' It is made in Texas. It maintains the largest coffee payroll in Texas. It pays more taxes than any other Texas coffee institution.

Admission reaches your grocer "oven-fresh" direct from the roasting plant through the operation of an immense fleet of fast motor trucks over systematized routes—that's speed and control. Will you furnish the support by buying this fine old blend of winey delicious coffees for use in your home? You'll like it better than any other coffee you ever drank.

The tower -- as it appears most any moonlit night

A FINE business home with the most modern facilities does not necessarily insure superior work But we have found that it helps. For instance, pride in our surroundings causes a necessity for equal pride in the work we create.

1917-1931

FROM THE BEGINNING WE SHOULD LEARN,
THAT WITH THE LAW WE MUST ABIDE;
AND IF WE DON'T, WE'RE SURE TO EARN A FATE OF SUICIDE.
